Medesk is proud to announce that we are now an Event Partner Sponsor for the Future Healthcare 2019 Exhibition & Conference
, taking place on 18–19 March 2019, at Olympia London.

Future Healthcare in association with UKIHMA, a UK government trade promotion organisation jointly funded by the Department for International Trade, the Department of Health and NHS England, is the UK's only exhibition and conference showcasing healthcare products and services to a global audience. Taking place at Olympia London from 18-19 March 2019, Future Healthcare gathers more than 4,000 buyers from 65 countries for two days of education, networking and cross border purchasing.

Dawn Barclay-Ross, Event Director commented, "We are delighted to welcome Medesk as a key Partner in sponsoring the event. It's good to see that Medesk's medical practice management software which works with patients and medical data, is making life easier for practitioners, receptionists and practice managers"

Future Healthcare 2019 is a unique opportunity for healthcare products and service providers to showcase their solutions on a global scale.

"Medesk is proud to join #FHXPO19 to present everything we've learned while tackling the biggest problems in private practice management over the past year. The expo represents a fantastic opportunity to meet fellow healthcare experts and share our ideas on what makes a good clinic truly great for patients and staff alike ", said Michael May, Medesk Medical Marketing Consultant and Healthcare PR Strategist
